1. U.S. and International Retail and Foodservice Alaska Seafood Promotion, Public Relations and Communications and Seafood Quality Technical Support

Major Component Accomplishments in 2017

- Higher participation at the 2017 Seafood Expo Global in Brussels, Belgium from both Alaska companies and customers resulted in almost double onsite sales from $27,505,000 in 2016 to $52,829,500 in 2017, and more than double projected sales from $249,200,000 to $639,000,000. Alaska seafood sales at the 2016 show were dramatically lower due to the Brussels terrorist attack prior to the event.
- ASMI China contributed $61,250 to four e-commerce promotional activities with online retailers Tmall.com, 250JD.com, Chunbo.com and YHD.com resulting in $3,830,350 of sales of Alaska seafood in FY17.
- ASMI cooperated with Foreign Agriculture Service (FAS) to organize a Brazil Seafood Cochran Fellowship Program, taking six Brazilian seafood importers to Alaska as part of a training and education program. As of March 2017, about 400 tons of Alaska seafood (Alaska pollock, cod. keta, coho and sockeve salmon), valued at $1 million, was purchased by mission participants and exported to Brazil.
- FY2017 U.S. consumer public relations earned media efforts resulted in 1,009 placements and over 2 billion impressions.
- ASMI hosted Alaska commercial fisherman town hall meetings in Juneau, Cordova, Petersburg, Seattle and Kodiak, providing an opportunity for the fleet to learn about ASMI's programs and how the organization improves the value of Alaska's commercial fisheries.
- Alaska's Responsible Fisheries Management (RFM) program was the first fishery certification program recognized by the Global Sustainable Seafood Initiative (GSSI) in July 2016. Over 40 companies, non-profit governmental organizations, governmental and intergovernmental organizations support GSSI, which is changing the sustainable fishery procurement policies for numerous global retailers.
- ASMI collaborated with several other U.S. seafood groups to apply for Global Based Initiative (GBI) grant funds through the U.S Department of Agriculture (USDA) Foreign Agricultural Service to promote U.S. Seafood in Southeast Asia. The first phase of the project will be a trade mission to Singapore and Thailand in September 2017. Southeast Asia is a region of growing interest to the Alaska seafood industry, and the GBI allows ASMI to move into this region without depleting funds from other programs.
- ASMI was a sponsor and speaker for the SeaWeb Global Sustainability Summit in June 2017. The SeaWeb Seafood Summit attracts global representatives from the seafood industry with leaders from the conservation community, academia, government, and the media.
- The Alaska Global Food Aid Program has successfully added, for the first time, two new Alaska pollock products to USDA's catalog of products available to purchase for use in the national School Lunch Program.
- ASMI's global food aid efforts have produced actual cash sales to our Alaska suppliers of $25.5 million during FY2017.
- ASMI promoted the third annual Alaska Herring Week in Seattle. Participation increased 33 percent, including eight James Beard Award-winning chefs. 70 different dishes were created in a myriad of ethnic flavor profiles.
- U.S. distributor promotions helped move 6.5 million pounds of Alaska seafood, which equate to a promotional cost of $.05 per pound.
- New promotional partner, Morrison Healthcare (500+ hospitals) is offering Alaska salmon for a year-round rotation on patient menus and offering in-quest cafés during the Lenten period. This is ASMI's first partner in the healthcare space.

- ASMI launched its first mobile shopping application coupon on Ibotta during Lent 2017. Frozen Alaska pollock products received nearly 22.5 million impressions, 119,000 engagements, and 38,000 redemptions on packages sold.
- Sysco Corporate, the largest foodservice distribution network in the world, promoted 350 Alaska seafood products through 80 Sysco operating companies across the U.S. and Canada, providing sales incentives to nearly 10,000 marketing associates, and buyer incentives throughout the Lenten activation. This was the largest promotion of its kind for ASMI foodservice.
- ASMI collaborated with Alaska Sea Grant to offer two graduate level internships at the Kodiak Fisheries Industrial Technology Center (FITC). One graduate student will collaborate with representatives from the Seafood Products Association (SPA) to provide consumer friendly and industry aware information that ASMI can use for talking points from SPA's technical bulletins. The other graduate student will be working in the lab at Kodiak's FITC to conduct further research on parasite control measures for Alaska seafood.
- ASMI collaborated with research staff from Oregon State University and the University of Alaska Fairbanks, and was awarded a $107,000 grant to fulfill objectives from the research proposal, "Development of Value-added Market Opportunities for Pollock and Yellowfin Sole Co-products."

Key Component Challenges

- ASMI will close its Seattle-based marketing office and move six of its current positions to Alaska in FY2018. This transition will lead to the loss of institutional knowledge in the domestic marketing program as positions relocate and are filled.
- The strong U.S. dollar continues to makes Alaska products more expensive relative to foreign competitors.
- Farmed Norwegian salmon continues to be redirected to other markets due to the Russian embargo, which began in mid-2014. This has affected the U.S. and European markets, where it competes with Alaska salmon.
- Alaska salmon harvests have been increasingly volatile in recent years, putting more pressure on ASMI and the industry to expand sales of species with larger harvests and retain value for species with lower harvests.
- Crab quotas declined significantly during the 2016/2017 season. Russian crab competes with Alaska crab and generally sells for a lower price. Encouraging consumers to demand Alaska crab at a higher price remains a major challenge. Retaining value for these products will be difficult, especially given the favorable currency position of Alaska's competitors in Canada and Russia.
- Alaska pollock products have struggled to retain value in recent years due to competition from Russian pollock.
  The weak Russian currency puts Russian producers at a significant advantage versus U.S. pollock producers.
  Pollock accounts for over half of Alaska's commercial harvest volumes and more than a quarter of the commercial fisheries' ex-vessel value.
- Per capita seafood consumption has generally trended down in major markets like Europe and Japan over the past decade. Competing protein prices of beef, pork, and chicken are generally trending lower in the U.S.
- Despite the great strides made by the Global Sustainable Seafood Initiative (GSSI) benchmark in leveling the 'pay-to-play' eco-label playing field, it remains a challenge to entice all steps of the supply chain to register for and use the Responsible Fisheries Management certification.
- ASMI receives approximately $4.2 million in federal Market Access Program (MAP) funds each year for international marketing efforts. The current administration has proposed a budget that eliminates funding for MAP.

Significant Changes in Results to be Delivered in FY2019

- Due to reduced state funding, the ASMI board has reduced the domestic consumer advertising budget from $2,280,000 in FY2016 to $260,000 in FY2018. This will result in lower consumer advertising impressions and awareness, and reduced website traffic.
- Higher salmon prices and larger harvests for keta and pink salmon will likely result in increased overall ex-vessel value and tax revenues in 2017. However, it is still too early to tell how much ex-vessel value or tax revenues might increase.
- In FY2019, ASMI will be fully self-supported and use no state general funds. The significant reduction in state general fund support for seafood marketing (from $7.8 million in FY2015 to $0 in FY2019) has required increasing expenditures from ASMI's seafood marketing assessment collections. Additionally, decreased availability of matching funds has weakened ASMI's annual application for federal funding from a competitive grant program managed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, under which the amount of matching funds available is a scored section of the program.
